Conflict-of-Interest Statement

It is a principle of the Berliner und Münchener Tierärztliche Wochenschrift that authors disclose protected, financial, and occupational or other personal interests which could influence the opinions described in the manuscript.

The Berliner und Münchener Tierärztliche Wochenschrift presupposes as a condition for publication that the corresponding author confirms the following statement by signing it:

I, hereby, declare that I, the undersigned, have no protected, financial, occupational or other personal interests in a product, service and/or a company which could influence the contents or opinions presented in the above-mentioned manuscript.

Exceptions:

Experiments on animals

I confirm that, within the framework of my publication, in the case of animal experiments – as far as existent – the institutional and national guidelines for the care and handling of animals have been observed. Furthermore, I confirm in the case of experimental studies that an examination by an ethics commission took place:
